

Introducing Sonoco's SoftPeel™ paper-based membrane

Delivering valuable customer protection and unique retail presentation

Sonoco's new SoftPeel™ membrane is a multi-layered, paper-surfaced membrane that's safe and easy to peel. Tested and market-proven, the SoftPeel membrane protects against cut fingers better than its all-foil counterparts. And in a highly competitive marketing environment, you'll appreciate packaging that offers convenience and functionality—as well as the opportunity to build brand loyalty through a better customer experience.

Additionally, the SoftPeel membrane provides extra billboarding space for branding or printing interactive features. In white, it offers a look consumers describe as more natural compared to all-foil options.

LET'S TALK

If you're looking for a new closure to refresh your product's look, our SoftPeel™ membrane may be just what you need.
